Join us to learn about the journey of the Monarch School's Outdoor Learning Studio, its Petal certification, and future ambitions. Originally put forward in 2011: "The purpose of the Living Building Challenge is straightforward – it defines the most advanced measure of sustainability in the built environment possible today and acts to diminish the gap between current limits and ideal solutions. Whether your project is a single building, a park, a college campus or even a complete neighborhood community, Living Building Challenge provides a framework for design, construction and the symbiotic relationship between people and all aspects of the built environment".

In a reprise from this event in 2011, see how an actual project in Houston has fared over a decade regarding its progress in its certification and as a building asset.
