GREEN JOBS

SPEAKER

Steve Stelzer,
GBRC Program Director

'Green Jobs' are all over the internet. What is the true intention of the term? Clearly, installing solar panels is a green job, but are green jobs limited to renewable energy positions? Steve Stelzer has researched this subject and has a multi-faceted presentation to help people understand the various green and not-so-green interpretations out there in the job market. In addition, he has some suggestions for "greening up" one's conventional job.

Free & open to the public, CEU available.
